RED CROSS NOTES

During the winter of 1917 and 1918, when the motor convoy trucks first came through Bedford over the Lincoln Highway, no provision had been made for the comfort of the soldiers, and as the Red Cross at that time had no organization in Bedford the women's committee, Council of Defense, undertook this work. There was no building or room in the town suitable for this purpose, the Presbyterian and Catholic Churches most kindly and loyally opened the basements of their churches for the use of the cold, tired hungry men who came through the snow over the mountain. This was only temporary as the U. S. Government asked the A. R. C., to establish and maintain Canteens for the care and comfort of soldiers and sailors, which was done as rapidly as possible. The Red Cross Canteen was opened in Bedford April 1918, equipped with cooking stoves, sinks, shower baths, etc. The rooms were always warm, and liberally supplied with towels, soap, hot water, matches stationery and other comforts.

155 Convoy trains have passed through Bedford and approximately 14000 men. The loyal and generous women of Bedford County saw to it that these men who were part of Uncle Sam's army, were well supplied with the things they liked best, such as Jelly, Pickles, Fruit, (Fresh and preserved) fresh vegetables, pies, cakes and sometimes Ice Cream and candy all of which was appreciated. All of which was greatly appreciated. Knitted Garments were given to every man who was not already provided with these comforts. Sick soldiers were given medical care, a warm room, and every attention. All expenses for equipment and support of the canteen was met by the Bedford County Chapter and Bedford Branch of the American Red Cross. The committee in charge of the Canteen take this opportunity to again thank all friends and co-workers who in any way contributed to the great success of the Canteen, probably the most popular war work done in Bedford.

The Canteen is now closed and Red Cross work transferred to the "Barnett" Building where three rooms have been rented, one for Work room one for store room and one for an office. The immense amount of "Home Service" work makes it necessary for the Red Cross to have an office and Secretary. Miss Ethel Rhodes the efficient Executive Secretary for the chapter is now having a vacation, will take up her duties in Bedford the 18th of this month.

Two nurses have been working for the Red Cross in the county and sick room supplies have been sent to a number of seriously ill people during the last month. Much necessary work has been done and much more will be needed as winter approaches.

Wedding Reception

Thursday evening August 28 was a time long to be remembered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. King. Invitations had gone out for some days to a reception to be given at the above home in honor of the wedding of their two sons. Earlier in the day, Mr. Harry Lloyd King and Miss Floy Dimond, Mr. Andrew Mearle King and Miss Emma Lillian Koorle were the subjects of a double wedding ceremony performed by the Rev. Jeremiah Fyock at his home at Salemville. At 5 o'clock P. M. the invited guests to the reception supper began to arrive. The tables were filled and refilled until all had dined. Many useful presents were given to the brides and their grooms.

Before the shades of night had settled on the scene, scores of their friends including the Salemville Band of which the senior of the two brothers, Lloyd is a member, gathered about the home and for several hours had absolute control of the premises. After a number of band selections and out-of-tune vibrations on the calithumpian instruments the two couples dressed in beautiful evening costume appeared on the front porch and received congratulations of the surging crowd.

Both couples wore them very gently but with a certain degree of firmness necessary for the occasion, placed on an auto truck and exhibited at the principal centers along the state road toward Woodbury. Finally even the truck thought this a very foolish piece of nonsense and decided to stop right on the spot and leave the passengers to walk or weep as they pleased.

We bespeak a happy future for these two young couples. They have all resided in this community from childhood and are well known among the social circles in the vicinity. The grooms are the only two sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. King and the brides are respectively the daughters of Messrs E. S. Dimond and J. G. Koontz. Accept here our congratulations of "we scribe."

Senate Approves Pershing's Welcome

The Senate concurred in the House resolution recently passed providing for a National reception for General Pershing. A joint committee will be composed of seven Congressmen and five Senators. They have not yet been chosen.

Did the Republican Senators consult Wilson for information or was it their purpose to get another pretext for talking for two months?

FOR WHAT DID THEY FIGHT AND PAY

In the battle of St. Mihiel, 550,000 American soldiers fought, and many of them died. Kindly in civilian life, they proved themselves fierce fighters when after the foe.

An idea of the size of the struggle can be obtained by comparing it with the battle of Gettysburg, in which 100,000 Northern soldiers fought.

The Meuse-Argonne struggle lasted 47 days, and 1,200,000 American soldiers risked their lives, many of them making the supreme sacrifice.

America had 2,036,000 soldiers in France of whom 1,390,000 saw battle service, more than 50,000 dying in battle, a total of 122,500 overseas having died.

There were 236,000 American soldiers and sailors wounded on the western front.

No tribute is so great as to do justice to the gallantry shown by the boys who turned the tide of battle and helped our bleeding Allies to a victory, the French soldiers who died in the struggle having numbered 1,355,000 and the British 900,000.

The war cost America much more very much more, than $1,000,000 an hour for two years.

The people have paid and are paying taxes on nearly every thing; if not directly, then indirectly, on what they wear and eat and in rent.

The nation's net debt as a result of the war is about $22,000,000, or about $1,000 for every family, which finally must be paid by the toil of the family, for no matter who pays it directly, in the end it comes to the consumer, and with interest added it will amount to more than $2,000 nearer $3,000 by the time it is paid.

What was the object of all this sacrifice of life and treasure?

What do we owe to those who gave generously of wealth and time?

What do we owe humanity?

Do we owe them an assured peace for the future, or do we owe them endless bickering?

Those who sacrificed over there cry out that such a sacrifice shall never be forced on humanity again.

Those who suffered in the trenches would have themselves their children and their children's children spared from such an ordeal again.

They know the fierceness of the death-dealing instruments devised by man; they know that another world conflagration, carried on with the knowledge gained in this, would all but wipe out humanity.

We all know that before this war we were told that great armaments worked for peace, and we know now that that was not true; that they meant death to mankind.

We have learned that peace can be maintained throughout the world only through the intelligent understanding among the nations.

And the voices of those who have gone and those who remain cry out for such an understanding.

That understanding, written into the League of Nations, is being accepted in Europe.

Our constitution gives the United States Senators the power to accept or reject the understanding accepted by other nations and before this government for action.

Each Senator has a right to use his own judgment, to come to his own conclusion, in the matter, but he has no right to push aside, Humanity's cry, and to base that judgment, to come to that conclusion, on the lines of party expediency.

By the agreement of December 2, 1899, among the United States, Great Britain and Germany, the Samoan Islands were divided between the United States and Germany, Great Britain retiring and accepting compensation for her retirement in the form of colonial concessions elsewhere in the world. This agreement ended a long series of outbreaks and disorder in the islands amounting to a state of civil war, due, it was charged at the time, to the intrigue and aggression of the Germans.

SELECT PIGS FOR BREEDING

Animals Should Not Be Pushed, but Kept Growing Nicely to Develop Bone and Muscle.

Pigs selected for breeding purposes should be kept growing nicely, but they must not be pushed, for the whole object of their feeding is to make them stretch out and develop bone and muscle in place of fat. They should be continued on a growing ration. A little skim milk and shorts make a good ration. A small amount of ground oats and cracked corn will help develop and insure normal growth. But corn should be used sparingly, as it is too fattening for pigs. Remember that these pigs should also have an abundance of green feeds.

ALFALFA BEST FORAGE CROP

Greatest Single Crop That Can Be Grown and Pays Handsomely—Unexcelled for Hogs.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Every farmer, whether or not he raises hogs, should have some alfalfa if he can possibly get it. It is the greatest single crop that can be grown and pays handsomely where it is grown. As a forage crop for hogs it is unexcelled.

GIVING LAMB A GOOD START

Ewe's Flanks and Udder Should Be Sheared to Prevent Wool Getting Into Lamb's Eyes.

Before the lamb is given the teat the ewe's flanks and udder should be sheared. If this is not done the lamb is likely to injure its eyes with the wool or perhaps get the wool in its mouth and then refuse to take the teat.

Shepherds do not all agree as to the best time to do this. But it will generally be found best to wait till the ewe drops her lamb, but before she recovers strength to resist the shearing. Care is always necessary not to cut the udder or serious injury may result.

PROVIDE SWINE WITH SHADE

Many Hogs Die During Summer Months If Not Given Protection of Some Kind.

Many hogs die from the effects of heat during the summer months. If there is no natural shade in the pasture, places should be provided where the hogs may get relief from the heat. A cheap and practical plan is to build sheds with roofs of poles and straw, supported by posts. This will allow the free circulation of air, and if the water supply is near, will enable the hogs to pass the hot weather safely.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Orphan lambs can be raised on cow's milk.

When a few sheep are cared for properly one may expect a flock in a short time.

When legume hay is used as a horse feed, the quality should be good and the quantity fed limited.

There should be a pasture for the colts, so that it will not be necessary for them to follow the team into the field.

There is nothing like a self-feeder to give pigs a good start, and it is the start they get that tells in the wind-up.

By providing good pasture crops for lambs after weaning, a setback in growth may frequently be avoided and the lambs marketed at an earlier age.

SAVINGS STAMP SALES INCREASE IN JULY

Report Just Issued Shows Fine Record For Third Federal Reserve District.

New vigor has been put into the Thrift Movement throughout the Third Federal Reserve District despite the hot summer weather experienced last month. Figures showing the sales of Government Thrift and Savings Stamps in Eastern Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey and Delaware during the two weeks ending July 26th have been issued by the Savings Division of the War Loan Organization.

As an example of how individual districts are booming thrift an average of 22 cents for every man, woman and child in Sullivan County, Pennsylvania, was invested in Savings Stamps during the two weeks. Bradford, Clinton and Montour Counties in Pennsylvania, and Camden County, in New Jersey, invested 8 cents in these securities for every inhabitant. There are twelve counties in the district which have invested over a dollar for every resident so far this year. In the safest security in the world.

The table below shows the standing of the counties in the Third Federal District for the two weeks ending July 26th. Read carefully and see where your county stands.

POLITICAL PARTIES, PETITIONS, ELECTIONS ETC.

The political parties which will nominate their candidates at the coming primary election to be held Tuesday, September 16, 1919 and which general election will be held on Tuesday, November 4, 1919 are

REPUBLICAN
PROHIBITION

The first day for securing signatures to petitions to file with the Commonwealth at Harrisburg is Monday, June 30, 1919 and the last day to file these petitions at Harrisburg is Friday August 8th 1919. One office in Bedford county must be certified to the State, that of Associate Judge. Judge Anthony Sammell's term expires.

The first day to secure signatures for county, township and borough offices is Friday, July 11, 1919 and the last day to file these petitions, with the County Commissioner's is Wednesday August 20, 1919. All township offices expire this year and all county offices except one Poor Director and the Jury Commissioners. The last days to be assessed in boroughs and townships for November election are Tuesday and Wednesday September 2 and 3, 1919. Assessors must sit at the polling places on these days.

The last day to pay tax to qualify for November Election is Saturday October 4, 1919.

All voters must declare their party affiliations to vote a party ballot but do not need to declare for voting a non-partisan ballot. This applies only to the Primary.

"Investigations" into the war are popular with the present Republican Congress because they offer a hope of distracting the public mind to the past. Why don't the Republican leaders show an equal interest in the high cost of living and other problems of the present?

The House of Representatives did well in a small way by repealing the tax on soda water and soft drinks, but its leaders ought to remember that there is another side to the consumer's difficulties—his outside, for instance. Now for the repeal of the taxes on clothing.

Before the Republican Senators can come to an agreement as to their action on the League of Nations some one will have to negotiate a treaty of peace and comity between the "mild revisionists" and the "out-right rejectionists."

If a Congressional committee travels 7,000 miles in a private car for thirty-five days to "investigate" partisan charges respecting what happened last year, what is the price per yard of ancient history?

No one would be so foolish as to allege that all Republicans are profiteers, but the present leaders of Congress are acting as if they strongly suspected that all profiteers are Republicans.

Republican Congressmen who are traveling thousands of miles to investigate what happened last year are failing thereby to observe the evidence of what is going to happen to them next year.

Apparently Republicans in Congress believe that there can be no move toward "reconstruction" until after they have wrecked the constructive work of the last Democratic Congress.

FOR TOWNSHIP SUPERVISOR

To the Democratic Voters of Bedford Township:

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Supervisor on the Democratic ticket in the primaries held Tuesday September 16, 1919. I ask to have your vote and your good will in the campaign.

GEORGE E. SMOUSE,
Bedford Township,
P. O. Bedford, Rt. 2.

The Home Town

Do you remember the old-fashioned good times in the little home town?

There were strawberry festivals in June, remember? Your mother always used to bake a cake for the strawberry festival and Jim Bond's mother was in charge of the ice-cream, and they got out the Japanese lanterns, and strung them from tree to tree on the town square, and you went and met everyone you knew and had the best kind of a time.

Then there was the Fourth of July celebration, when the Hon. Frederick Heydecker read the Declaration. They always chose Fred because he had a Prince Albert coat, and a fine speaking voice, everyone agreed. You could hear every "whereas" even out at the edge of the crowd, where the balloon peddler pushed his way along.

There was the Harvest Home, too, with the Japanese lanterns out again, but supplemented this time with jack o' lanterns made out of pumpkins, and shocks of corn and heaps of squashes. Again you met the same old folks, all friendly and neighbor-like.

Well, it's all changed now, isn't it? The old town has boomed. There's a baby carriage factory, and a typewriter factory, and the canning factory that uses up the pumpkins that once made lanterns, and the town is full of "foreigners." You can go down Main street nowadays and not see a soul you know, hardly.

That is an epitome of the history of America. Once we were all neighbors and friends, all pretty much the same kind of folks living a simple, friendly, semi-rural life. Then came the age of invention, and our wonderful industrial expansion. We became a great manufacturing nation as well as a great agricultural nation. The factories caused the great drift of population from country to town and from small town to great city. Great industries called for labor from across the sea, and got it, thousands and millions in strange incoming hordes.

It was worth while, of course. We had to go in; we could not stagnate—and yet—we paid a price for it all. Part of the price was the loss of that old neighborly life. There are whole sections of town and whole blocks of the population of which we know nothing, and care less. Yet we sigh now and then, for the old spirit. The change has affected us more than we realize. There was an ugly strike, right in the old town, with riots and lawlessness.

There are observers, who believe this loss of the old community life of America is one of the nation's saddest. But instead of deploring it idly and sentimentally, and going their way, they have cast about to find a remedy. They believe, and have good grounds for believing, they have found it.

In 600 cities near soldiers, sailors and marine corps training camps, in fifty or so big war industry centers, the neighborhood spirit has been brought to life again. In the camp towns, it was born of the desire to provide hospitality for men in uniform in their brief periods of leave. Men and women united to entertain the boys in service, and thus folk met who never had become acquainted before, though they had lived, so to speak, next door to each other for years. In the Community Houses, parents and boys and girls rubbed elbows at entertainments of all sorts, drawn by their common kinship to men in service.

In the war industry towns, the building up of a community spirit among diverse racial groups that had been interested theretofore only in the jobs the town had to offer, was one of the marvels of war-times in America.

And now a national organization has been formed to carry the kindly mission on in peace times. It is called Community Service (Incorporated), and is incorporated to co-operate nationally. If it can, beginning in such tangible ways as by developing neighborhood playgrounds, neighborhood clubs, all sorts of leisure time activities—build up again the old American spirit of equality and common social life, it will have performed no trivial service to the nation.

Most of the soldiers have been demobilized, but they are still fighting—for fair recognition from a Republican Congress.

The Republican Congress has been prevented from passing bills by its engrossment in an effort to "pass the buck."

Some of the best Republican oratory now to be heard has for its theme, "How Not to Do It."

There are three P's in peace—production, prosperity and progress. Ratify the treaty!

NOW FOR RATIFICATION

President Wilson met the virtual challenge of the Senatorial opponent of the peace treaty and the League of Nations by the freest and fullest presentation of the conditions and engagements that are now awaiting ratification by the Senate. For three and a half hours the President answered the questions propounded to him by members of the Foreign Relations Committee. With patience painstaking and the utmost frankness he responded to their request for information.

This conference was without precedent in American history, but it amply fulfilled the President's promise made months ago that he would take the Senate and the country into his confidence in respect to the Treaty and the League. It was the fault of the Senate Committee that this complete exposition and explanation of the treaty and the covenant was not sooner forthcoming. The President upon his return from France expressed his willingness—and at the conference showed his preparedness—to clarify and justify every act of the Paris peace council.

From the lips of the man who was one of the authors of the treaty and of the League—who knows every inch of the ground between their inception and their consummation—the Foreign Relations Committee has learned that Article X of the covenant is subject to our own judgment and to the authority of Congress; that the Monroe Doctrine is beyond the purview of the League; that questions of purely domestic policy and government, like immigration and the tariff, are equally outside its jurisdiction. If the Senators who have opposed the treaty and the League continue their obstruction it will not be for want of understanding and reassurances. Their opposition hence forth will be suspected as of a different origin.

The President made it quite plain to the members of the Foreign Relations Committee that, if they choose to regard their country's obligations lightly, they may adopt interpretations that do not alter the text or impair the force of the treaty. If such "interpretations" in a separate resolution will save their pride without at the same time jeopardizing the advantages which the United States derives from the treaty and the security which all the world obtains through the League, the Senators are free, so far as the President is concerned, to take that course.

Whatever the action of the recalcitrant Senators may be, the people's attitude will be unmistakable. They know the President has had a greater opportunity and a better right to judge of the need and meaning and value of the treaty and of the League than the Senatorial critics of his work have had. If neither is perfect the people are not dissatisfied. They will not tolerate the Senate's attempt to give them less because they have not obtained more. They want the treaty ratified and the covenant accepted without further delay.

THE TABLES ARE TURNED

While the Democrats were in power, Republicans dinned the country's ears with criticism and denunciation. Every act and every omission was wrong. Nothing was right. The war was muddled; peace was delayed; reconstruction was impossible. The cure was a Republican Congress with brilliant statesmen and economists like Senators Lodge and Penrose and Representatives Gillett and Mondell as its leaders.

Three months of Republican responsibility and control has not convinced the people that the change was for the better. Indeed, there is not a problem which has not become more acute; not a popular demand that has not remained unfulfilled in this fourth of a year of Republican accountability for legislation.

At the worst, the Democratic Congress preceding the one now in session was charged with doing its work poorly. But it acted. The present Republican Congress has done next to nothing—and done it very badly. If the Democrats made mistakes it was because they made efforts. Against the Republicans is fairly chargeable the greatest and costliest of all mistakes—failure to try.

In his statement to members of the Foreign Relations Committee at the White House conference, President Wilson gave some excellent reasons for speedy ratification of the treaty. He pointed out that the copper mines of Arizona, Montana and Alaska are operating at a loss; that the zinc mines of Missouri, Tennessee and Wisconsin are producing but half their normal output; that the lead of Missouri, Idaho and Illinois reaches only a portion of its former market; that the sale of cotton in the Central Empires and other parts of Europe is impossible and that many other commodities cannot be marketed because the channels of trade are barred until the resumption of commercial relations is made possible by the ratification of the treaty. Those nations which first conclude peace will also be the first to enjoy prosperity.

Cancer Facts Which Every Adult Should Know.

Cancer, probably the most dreaded of all diseases, is on the increase in America and throughout the world, in spite of the fact that it is curable if treated early, says the U. S. Public Health Service. Unfortunately the early discovery is difficult. Unlike most other diseases, its first attack is painless, and often, therefore, before the disease is discovered it has reached the stage where a major operation is necessary and the chances of cure have been greatly reduced if not entirely lost.

To help reduce the number of deaths from cancer, the U. S. Public Health Service has just issued a little pocket size booklet, written in lay terms which every adult should have. With its use it is hoped to have cases of cancer detected in the early stages.

Readers of the GAZETTE may obtain a copy of this booklet by addressing a postal card to the U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C. asking for "Keep Well Series Book No. 6."

Experts or Theorists— Which?

The packing industry is intricate, complex—far more so than the railroads or the telegraph.

Every day multiplying needs of society increase its problems and multiplying responsibilities demand more of it.

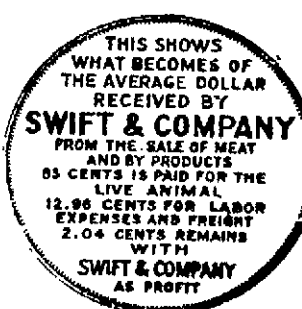

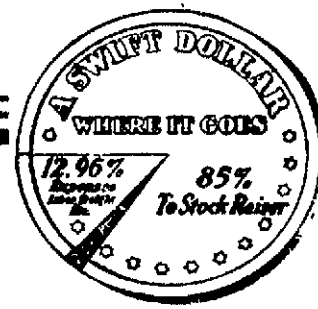

Highly trained experts, specialists of years' experience, thinkers and creative men, devote their lives, their energies, their activities, to solving the problems of the packing industry and meeting its widening duties.

Swift & Company is not a few dozen packing plants, a few hundred branch houses, a few thousand refrigerator cars, and a few million dollars of capital, but an organization of such men. It is the experience, intelligence, initiative and activity which operates this physical equipment.

Can this intelligence, this experience, this initiative and creative effort which handles this business at a profit of only a fraction of a cent per pound from all sources, be fostered through the intervention of political theorists, however pure their purposes? Or be replaced by legislation? Does Congress really think that it can?

Let us send you a Swift "Dollar". It will interest you. Address Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill.

SIGNS ON ROADS ARE UNLAWFUL

Highway Department Issues Orders Directing Removal Of Advertising Matter

THOUSANDS ARE DISPLAYED

Interesting News Items, Briefly Condensed, Picked Up at the Departments, Which Are of Interest to the People of the State.

Harrisburg—General orders have been issued by the State Highway Department to every county road superintendent, directing that advertising signs be taken from the State highways throughout Pennsylvania. There are 10,235 miles of State roads and thousands of signs "decorate" the highways. The department holds that it is against the laws to post or display any advertisement along the State roads.

A statement issued says: "Particular attention is called by the State Highway Department to the erection in Eastern Pennsylvania of advertising signs in imitation of the department's detour signs. Complaints have been received by the State Highway Department to the effect that travelers at night finding these imitation detour signs at cross-roads have been misled."

In many parts of Pennsylvania candidates for office have been so busy in posting their cards that in numerous instances the entire white-washed surface of the pole has been hidden. Hotels have placed elaborate signs on poles within the highway limits.

State Highway Commissioner Sadler, in referring to the many thousands of signs which have been placed on State highways, said that their presence detracts from the natural beauty of the scenery and from the appearance of the roadways.

Chief Discussions Named.

Health insurance, the new Pennsylvania State compensation law amendments, conservation of workers, and disposal of trade wastes and sewage will be the chief themes for discussion at the ninth conference of Industrial Surgeons and Physicians to be held at the State capitol on September 22. The session will be held in conjunction with the State Medical Society meeting, the State Departments of Labor and Industry, Health and others co-operating.

Will Ask Co-operation.

The State Highway Department authorities are preparing to ask state and local police authorities to co-operate in a rigid enforcement of the new automobile regulation act starting September 15. The act provides a code for licensing and regulation of motor vehicles of every character.

Will Lessen Auto Thefts.

WHEAT GROUND PREPARATION

Lime the Soil for Wheat Just Before or After Seeding for the Clover Crop Which Follows.

The Soil Should Be Well Pulverized.

It is the general practice throughout the East to sow timothy with wheat at the time of planting in the Fall, and to seed the same ground to clover the following Spring just as the frost is coming out of the ground. Probably seventy-five per cent of the land sowed to wheat each Fall is poorly, or at least insufficiently prepared for the clovers and grasses which follow.

For wheat, oats, stubble, or corn, ground is usually harrowed a couple of times with or without plowing, and then the seed is sown with no special thought or preparation for the small timothy seed which is planted at the same time. Sometimes a couple of hundred pounds, more or less, of commercial fertilizer and a little lime is used, but the practice is by no means uniform.

Because clover follows immediately after the wheat crop some attention should be given to this crop. It is the soil builder of the rotation and deserves good treatment and all possible encouragement. It is very important that the soil be sweetened by the liberal use of lime. Clover thrives best in an alkaline soil. It is not absolutely necessary, however, that the lime be applied prior to planting on the raw soil because the clover makes little growth until May and June of the following year. It is undoubtedly best, though, because it permits working it into the soil. If this is done precaution should be taken to make sure that the lime is thoroughly incorporated with the surface soil and allowed to remain for four or five days before planting. When it is impossible or inconvenient to put the lime on before planting, it should be applied any time before the wheat is up three or four inches the following Spring. It may be profitably applied in mid-winter.

It must also be remembered in planting wheat that timothy responds to lime and that the seed is small. It must, therefore, have a fine seed bed in order that small seeds may grow. They must pack around them so they may obtain sufficient moisture to start and carry on the process of germination and enable the young plant to work its way through the soil. Neither timothy nor clover start well in a lumpy soil. It should be thoroughly prepared and all the lumps crushed. Where it is possible to apply lime, it will do much to assist in breaking the lumps. It makes the soil loose and as it is crumbling the hard pieces of soil which so often prevent a perfect stand.

NEW DIRECTOR IS APPOINTED

Dr. Clarence J. Marshall of Philadelphia Is Head of New Bureau of Animal Industry

IS A RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Short Items of Interest Gathered at the Various State Departments Touching Affairs of the People of the Commonwealth.

Harrisburg—Dr. Clarence J. Marshall, of Philadelphia was appointed director of the Bureau of Animal Industry, and Dr. T. E. Munce, of Washington, as assistant director by Secretary of Agriculture Frederick Rasmussen.

The Bureau of Animal Industry takes the place of the former State Livestock Sanitary Board, composed of the Governor, Dairy and Food Commissioner, Secretary of Agriculture and the State Veterinarian, under a recently enacted law, and Dr. Marshall relinquishes the place of State veterinarian to accept the new place.

He is recognized throughout the country as an authority in his line, and during the war had full charge of the veterinary service of the United States Army.

Prevention of diseases among livestock, which have cost the farmers of this State large sums in former years, will be given special attention by the new bureau, with special attention devoted to pig cholera, milk herd troubles, hog cholera and rabies. Special efforts will be made to wipe out the parasitic diseases of hogs, sheep, poultry and cattle and to the prevention of transmissible diseases. The new bureau will co-operate with the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry in testing for tuberculosis and the two will bear jointly the indemnity to be paid for animals destroyed to prevent the spread of this malady.

To Help Keep Down H. C. of L.

Gov. William C. Sproul has directed Secretary of Agriculture Frederick Rasmussen and the new director of the Bureau of Markets, Guy C. Smith, to do everything possible to aid in the movement to decrease the high cost of living.

Adjustment Is Likely.

Immediate steps are to be taken by Commissioner of Labor and Industry C. B. Connelley to arrange a plan of co-operation between the United States Government and the State of Pennsylvania regarding industrial rehabilitation work. The pending bills in Congress call for such Federal assistance as may be voted to match State payments.

The Unemployment Situation.

The unemployment problem which caused so much alarm early in the summer has completely disappeared and has been replaced by a labor shortage already acute and threatening to become serious, according to figures given out by the State Employment Bureau here.

Ex-Soldiers Appointed.

Harry L. Knapp, chairman of the Pennsylvania State Board of Moving Picture Censors recently announced the following appointments: Samuel G. Johnson, of Philadelphia, to be chief operator, with headquarters in Philadelphia, and Tryon Benner, of Derry street, Harrisburg, to be an inspector. Both are returned soldiers.

Watching the Mines.

Seward E. Button, State Chief of Mines, and his deputy, Frank Hall, have been holding a series of conferences with the mine inspectors in various sections of the State to improve the safety situation and to get into close touch with the production and other conditions.

Governor Goes West.

The Governor, with Mrs. Sproul and his private secretary, Harry S. McDevitt, have gone to Salt Lake City, where the Governor will address the conference of governors on "The Expansion of the National Guard System as the Basis of the National Defense." Gov. Sproul expects to return about September 1.

Huckleberries Plentiful.

Fewer Crossing Accidents.

Forty-eight fewer accidents occurred at grade crossings on steam railroads in the first half of 1919 as compared with the same period of 1918, according to reports of the accident bureau of the Public Service Commission.

Policemen Are Busy.

"Knocked Into a Cocked Hat."

The meaning of this expression is not generally known. "Cocked hat" was a variety of the game of tenpins, in which only three were used, set up at angles of a triangle. When, in bowling at tenpins, all were knocked down except the three at the corners, the set was said to be "knocked into a cocked hat."

Powerful Nitroglycerin.

The greater part of the world's output of glycerin is used for nitroglycerin, prepared by the action of a mixture of nitric and sulphuric acids on glycerin, which forms the chief ingredient of many modern high explosives and smokeless powders, used for military, mining and agricultural purposes.

Memory Must Be Cultivated.

In any system of mental development, the memory must be cultivated at the outset, and that cultivation must continue unceasingly. It is fortunate indeed that every average person has a mind capable of excellent memory. It is only necessary that the native powers should be properly employed.

Heat ALL Your House THROUGH ONE REGISTER

Yes, it's just as possible in your home as it has been in fifty thousand others. You, too, may have every room comfortable with balmy healthful heat, reaching every corner by Nature's method of circulation—and all through only one register! It isn't necessary to clutter up your house with pipes, overheat your cellar and incur big bills—not when you can get the

It can be set up in a day, without inconvenience to you, and will make your home so comfortable in the severest winter weather you will be well repaid.

Your house will be uniformly warm; your cellar will be just right for the storage of fruits and vegetables. Your fuel bill will be less than with stoves that heat only a part of your house.

HERE ARE THE REASONS

The Caloric is the Original Patented Pipeless Furnace—the result of the study of competent engineers to solve the heating problem in the most satisfactory way. That they have succeeded is proved by the fact that the number of Calorics sold on an absolute guarantee of satisfaction is three times greater than any other pipeless furnace.

The cause of this satisfaction lies in the patented and exclusive principle that distinguishes the Caloric from all others. It is not a pipe furnace provided with an extra casing, but a complete revolution in furnace building designed exclusively for pipeless heating.

Come In And See Us

We will show you what these principles are, and you will then see what Caloric quality means, why it always succeeds and why imitations cannot accomplish the same results. Then you will be in no danger of buying an inferior article, with all its disappointment in later months. Get a copy of the book "Progress," which tells the fact about pipeless heating. If you can't come in, write for it.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1919, Western Newspaper Union)

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 7

PARABLES OF THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 13:31-33, 44-50.
GOLDEN TEXT—Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness.—
Matt. 6:33.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Obeying our king.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A message of the king.
INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—The growth of the kingdom.
SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—The extent of the kingdom.

1. The Parable of the Mustard Seed
(v. 31, 32).

Three things mainly occupy our attention in this parable:

1. Its unimportant beginning. It begins as the least of all seeds and grows to be the greatest among herbs. The king was of ordinary parentage and humble circumstances. He selected unlettered fishermen as his royal advisers. The prophet had said concerning him that he would be "despised," "rejected," "forsaken," "cut off" and as "having nothing."

2. Its vigorous growth. From these small beginnings Christ's influence has gone forth so that there is no power or influence equal in greatness to that of Christendom.

3. Its lodging capacity.

The birds which find lodgment in the tree do not represent the children of men who find safety and salvation in the church. The birds constitute no part of the tree, while the believer becomes a part of the tree, adding to its strength and fruitfulness. The birds are something foreign to the tree, and are burdensome and injurious to it. They come to find shelter and wait to pluck off the tender buds, or to prey upon the ripened fruit. The effect of their lodging in the tree is evil and blighting. In Christ's interpretation (v. 19) he said that the fowls represent the wicked ones. He who would make the lodgers here anything else makes Christ's interpretation a farce. The same Greek word is used in both cases, and the circumstances are the same.

II. The Parable of the Leavened Meal (v. 33).

Three things mainly occupy our attention here: the meal, the woman, and the leaven.

1. The meal. Meal has a wholesome and nutritious effect. It was used in one of the sweet-savour offerings which was typical of Christ (Lev. 2:1-3 R. V.); it was food for the priests (Lev. 6:15-17 R. V.); Abraham had Sarah to knead a cake out of three measures of meal for the angelic messengers of the Lord (Gen. 18:6); Solomon's royal table was provided with meal (I Kings 4:22); Elijah was fed upon a cake made of meal (II Kings 4:41); Elisha used meal as an antidote for the poison of death from the pot (II Kings 4:38-41).

2. The woman. In scripture we find false doctrine being taught by woman (Rev. 17:20). Dealing with doctrine is forbidden to women (I Tim. 2:12). In I Tim. 4:13; II Tim. 2:17, 18; II Peter 2:1-3, we find that the apostasy will be brought in through false teaching within the ranks of God's people. The meaning, then, of the parable is that the true doctrine, the meal given for the nourishment of the children of the kingdom (II Peter 2:2; I Tim. 4:6), will be officially corrupted by false doctrine. Woman is a type of the church in some sense. The church is hiding away false doctrine, and its corrupting effects are seen on every hand.

3. The leaven. In scripture leaven is invariably a type of evil. (1) All through the Old Testament leaven is a continual and unvarying type of evil (Ex. 12:15; Lev. 2:11). It is inconceivable that Jesus should arbitrarily change, without due notice and explanation, a word from an evil to a good sense, which the Spirit of God had so unchangingly used for two thousand years. (2) Jesus himself makes leaven to denote sin (Matt. 16:6, 12; Mark 8:15). (3) Paul uses leaven in its usual biblical sense (I Cor. 5:6-8; Gal. 5:8, 9). Further, this is the only interpretation that will harmonize with Christ's interpretation of the first two parables. Facts patent to all prove that the professed church today is feeding upon the leaven of formalism and legalism instead of the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth—the Word of God.

III. The Parable of the Hidden Treasure (v. 44).

IV. The Parable of the Merchantman Seeking Pearls (v. 45, 46).

V. The Parable of the Drag Net. (v. 47-50)

(For a detailed study of the last three parables see the Review for September 28.)

Consideration of the Morrow.
Calm and prudent consideration of the morrow, so far from being a sin, is one of the very first Christian duties, and is so taught by the Holy Ghost in the New Testament; where people are especially enjoined to labor, working with their hands the thing which is good that they may have to give to him that needeth.—Keeble.

Healing and Health.
Divine healing is for the sinner. Divine health is for the saint. One heals and the other keeps the healed well.

Lower Prices Now
Up To Retailers

As a result of the sharp break in wholesale prices, retailers are being watched closely by the Department of Justice, and if prices to the consumer do not show a corresponding decrease within the next few days swift prosecutions probably will follow it was learned on good authority.

Most dealers are now cooperating in the campaign to lower living costs officials of the department said, and lower wholesale prices should be reflected on the retail market.
